Telecom Italia S.p.A. EGM 20/12/2013 ITALY	Resolution 1. Proposal Submitted by Shareholder FINDIM Group SA: Revoke Directors from the Board	For (Exceptional)	Marco Fossati (CEO of Findim) is seeking the removal of all directors (currently 14 members, after the resignation of one director on charges of insider trading), except for Luigi Zingales, an independent nominated by Assogestioni in 2011. The dissident is not proposing a new slate, but instead will support the slate of seven nominees proposed by Assogestioni. Assogestioni, because of its own articles of association, cannot work with a non-institutional investor like Fossati, and cannot present a list that represents a majority of the board (neither can its nominees take executive positions or the chairmanship). So Assogestioni presented a list of seven candidates hoping that the board size would stay at 15 (the minimum board size is seven and maximum 19). On the same day, however, Telco presented a list of only three candidates, not showing willingness to take a majority of seats. We note that two of Telco's nominees and two of the Assogestioni's nominees sit currently on the board, meaning that 40 percent of the new board is actually a continuation of the old board if 10 directors are elected. If shareholders vote for the removal of the board all the nominees will be elected as there are more seats than candidates, regardless of which list gets the most votes. So the only real decision for shareholders is whether or not to support the removal. Findim and some retail investors in Telecom Italia have been fighting against the recent deal that gives Spain's Telefónica the option to gain control of Italy's largest phone group without having to launch a

		takeover bid. The requisitionists argue that the current board caters more to the interests of core shareholders such as Spain's Telefónica rather than all investors. The dissident believes that a new board should focus on: Containing the conflict of interest with Telefonica/Telco; Addressing the debt issue without selling core assets like TIM Brazil and Telecom Argentina; and Growing the domestic business. TI in its defense argues that it has strict procedures to deal with conflicts of interest, excluding Telefonica's representatives from the appropriate board deliberations. The company has announced and partially executed a plan to raise EUR 4 billion from asset sales, including Telecom Argentina, and a convertible bond issuance, which will address the company's leverage and Capex needs over the medium term. TIM Brazil is a core asset that the company would only sell at premium valuation and provided it finds an alternative growth option The decision is somewhat of a conundrum for shareholders: removing the board would lead to Telco having a clear minority, which could lead the Brazilian regulator to not deem Telefonica's increased stake at Telco a change in control at TI, and allow Telefonica to get effective control of Telco. Later, and given that Telco has been the only one to nominate majority slates at TI in the past, it's plausible that Telefonica/Telco would get back a majority of the board seats and the regulator would demand a sale of TIM Brazil. If shareholders vote against the removal of the TI board and leave a majority of Telco directors, the regulator might consider that Telefonica controls TI through Telco and Telefonica would not be able to convert its shares. But in the end, if Telefonica exercises significant influence over Telco and Telco over TI (which has triggered this proxy contest), and its

			intention is to have TI sell TIM Brazil, the TI board will eventually do so. One difference is how the sale process would be run: forced by the regulator, with a majority independent board at TI, or voluntarily, with a board controlled by Telefonica. The choices are not ideal, and to make matters worse, the term of the proposed directors is unknown at this time. But a majority independent board would be in a better position to weigh alternatives and move forward. We believe that: 1) regardless of company performance, there are causes for concern arising from the conflict of interest with Telefonica/Telco; 2) supporting the removal of the board would effectively affect only six directors (the other four current directors are being renominated by Telco and Assogestioni, and will be elected in any scenario); with the same management in place, the risk of discontinuity is significantly lessened, and actually no party is claiming a risk of disruption); and 3) all the nominees from Assogestioni are independent.

All the nominees on this slate are independent.

Schedule of voting on company resolutions

			the new CEO Ted Ayres. The pay rises were well flagged by the company who consulted shareholders. From 1 August 2012, Mr Ayers salary was increased by 20% from £250,000 to £300,000 and was subsequently increased to £400,000 on his appointment to CEO role in February 2013. The Report states that on their promotions to Chief Executive and Finance Director, the salaries of Messrs Ayres and Adey were positioned significantly lower than their predecessors and market levels at the time. As indicated in last year's report, the Committee has decided to move salaries towards market levels in stages. The Committee believes that the new executives have settled well into their roles. They have taken advantage of market conditions and government policy to increase sales reservations, average selling price, legal completions and operating margin. The land bank has been increased and actions have been taken to develop management below Board level. The Committee states that both the Chief Executive and the Finance Director have established sound relationships with investors and other stakeholders. Recognising both the strong Group and personal performance demonstrated during the year, it is intended that their salaries are increased to market levels in two instalments. Accordingly, the CEO's salary for FY 2013/14 has been increased by 25% to £500,000 and the salary of the Finance Director has been increased by 27% to £285,000. The Report states the second instalment on 1 August 2014 will be contingent upon continuing strong performance of both the business and the executive over the year and on a current and independent review of the salaries of the executives of other house builders. Rather nervously accepting the company's explanation for increasing salaries which, on evidence available, shows the level to still be below median. As the multiples and pension levels are reasonable, as is the new PSP, we are giving company the benefit of the doubt. We should ensure that the next anticipated base pay rise is indeed accompanied by good performance.

	Resolution 6. Approve Proposed Guarantee to be Provided to Inner Mongolia Yitai Chemical Co. Ltd.	For (Exceptional)	Inner Mongolia Yitai Group Co. Ltd. (Inner Mongolia Yitai Group), the controlling shareholder of the company holding approximately 49.2 percent of the company's issued share capital, seeks shareholder approval for the provision of guarantees to Yitai Chemical for the total loan of RMB 2 billion. Provision of a guarantee by the company could be beneficial to the firm, but could also expose the firm and its shareholders to unnecessary risks. Provision of a guarantee would enable the entity receiving the guarantee to obtain more favorable terms from lenders, reducing the cost of borrowing. Therefore, if a guarantee is provided to a subsidiary, it could ultimately reduce the borrowing cost for the overall group. That said, the provision of a guarantee increases the risks at the company as the company could be held fully liable for debts owed by these entities. Therefore, where the company's board cannot exercise proper oversight and control over the entities being guaranteed or where the company is taking a disproportionate financial risk relative to its ownership stake, the risks may outweigh the potential benefits. In this case, the guarantee will be provided only to a subsidiary where the company holds 90.2 percent stake. In the absence of any significant concerns regarding the entity receiving the guarantee, the relationship between the company and the entity receiving the guarantee, the purpose of the guarantee, or the

We consider that in the interests of good governance the chairman should generally be independent and in particular not be a controlling shareholder. However we take comfort from the fact that there is a separate CEO (who is paid much more than the chairman) independent directors represent half of the board and that the chairman's interests should be well aligned with those of shareholders. Underlining this is the company's strong track performance record and there being no other governance issues that make us uncomfortable in supporting this arrangement. 	Resolution 17. Approve Waiver on Tender-Bid Requirement	For (Exceptional)	Under Resolution 16 the Company is seeking shareholder approval to repurchase up to 2.5% of the issued share capital. Therefore under Resolution 17 the Company is seeking to waive obligations for Executive Director Will Adderley to make an offer for the outstanding shares in the company under Rule 9 of the Takeover Code if his holding increases as a result of any repurchases. Will Adderley currently holds 30.48% of the issued share capital so if the buy-back authority is exercised in full (and the Executive Deputy Chairman does not participate) his interest in Company shares could increase up to 31.35% of the issued share capital. In addition Mr Adderley his parents Jean and Bill Adderley and Nadine Adderley The Leicester Foundation the Paddocks Trust and WA Capital Limited are considered to be acting in concert for the purposes of Rule 9 of the Takeover Code. The Concert Party holds and/or is deemed to be interested in 111,237,347 ordinary shares representing 54.84% of the issued share capital of the Company as at 2 October 2013 and following the exercise of the buy back authority this shareholding could increase to as much as 56.26%). As such we are concerned about creeping control (although the Adderley family already has control) and we engaged with the Company earlier this year on the matter. The company understand institutional shareholders' concerns and in response took steps a while ago to remove Will Adderley from share based incentive schemes so as to eliminate an increase in his shareholding through that mechanism. Also it explained that the Adderley 'concert party' as a whole has been selling down its holding so that it is reduced from the level immediately post-flotation. Also

			significant increases in the concert Party's holding are not considered likely given that any surplus cash returns to shareholders are made through a mechanism that treats all shareholders the same. Furthermore we were reassured that the buy back authority is only sought as a mechanism for flexibility in how to service LTIP awards and the Board will only use it for this function and only if it believes the shares are undervalued. Notwithstanding this its believe the purchase of shares from time to time to satisfy share based incentives may well be in the interests of long term shareholders and as it is difficult to foresee share price performance flexibility is desirable. We welcome the fact that the Company has considered this issue carefully and the safeguards certainly make us more comfortable. Because of this and as the potential increase is minimal (particularly given the concert party effectively already has control) we are comfortable in supporting the Waiver. However we will be making the Company aware that we are unlikely to be able to continue to support if the holding keeps going up even if only for the purposes of servicing the LTIP awards. One suggestion so that the Company can continue having the flexibility to buy back shares but to ensure the concert party's holding remains the same is for the concert party to be encouraged to participate in such buybacks.

	Resolution 4. Ratify Auditors	For
	Resolution 5. Establish Human Rights Committee	For (Exceptional)	A vote for this proposal is warranted because: The creation of a human rights committee is likely to further strengthen Oracle's stated commitments to human rights issues and augment the firm's existing human rights-related policies and initiatives; The establishment of a human rights-focused board committee could be accomplished in a manner that does not impinge upon the board's fiduciary duties or fetter its ability to effectively monitor and oversee human rights risks. Such a committee could enhance and complement the company's capacity to manage human rights risks in the long-term, for the ultimate benefit of shareholders.
	Resolution 6. Require Independent Board Chairman	For (Exceptional)	Two major components at the top of every public company are the running of the board, and the executive responsibilities of running of the company's business. There should be a clear division between the head of the company, and the chair of the board. When there is no clear division of independence between the executive and board branches of a company, poor executive and/or board actions often go unchecked to the ultimate detriment of shareholders. We support this proposal seeking the adoption of a policy that requires the board's chairman be an independent director, particularly in light of the recurring problematic compensation practice, and ineffective independent board oversight.
	Resolution 7. Provide Vote Counting to Exclude Abstentions	Against	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Proposals do not add any value or strong case not made</li> </ul>
	Resolution 8. Adopt Multiple Performance Metrics Under Executive Incentive Plans	For (Exceptional)	Approval of this proposal would send a strong message to the Compensation Committee to adopt multiple performance-based metrics under the short- and long-term incentive programs, which would enhance the linkage between executive pay and performance. As such, a vote for this proposal is warranted.

Schedule of voting on company resolutions

	Resolution 9. Require Shareholder Approval of Quantifiable Performance Metrics	For (Exceptional)	A vote for is warranted. Given the company's extended history of problematic compensation practices, and the lack of responsiveness to last year's failed say-on-pay vote, support is warranted because it would enhance shareholders' ability to evaluate the rigor and the payout potential for the company's incentive programs before they are implemented.

One grant was provided in October 2012 (FY13), whilst the balance of settlement is due to take place in October 2013 (FY14). These shares are not subject to any rigorous performance requirements, and are offered to Mr. Bond subject to "satisfactory performance and continuing employment." In view of the company's more general problems and the fact that there are, albeit vague performance conditions, we are supporting the remuneration report so as not to destabilise the company further.

			However, item D in the Company's constitution states the following Election of Directors: To change the requirement that provides that one-third of directors (other than the managing director) are subject to retirement at each AGM and in its place require that all directors have a maximum term of 3 years. The existing requirement for an election of directors to be held every year is maintained. This means that the CEO/Managing Director will now be subject to re-elections. We believe the importance of this trumps the other negative aspects of the changes. Once we have all directors up for re-election (albeit every 3 years) shareholders will have more influence over the board.

Sino Land is exposed to the risk of bribery in its operations. We note that the company's Sustainability Review 2013 includes reference to a code of conduct in the staff handbook, and we also note that Sino Group refers to a code of conduct, and anti-corruption seminars, in its Sustainability Report 2012. Under normal circumstances we would be withholding support, however, we would like to encourage the company to publish its code of conduct in the public domain. We would also urge the company to publish details of its management approach and performance in this area.

	Resolution 4. Approve Omnibus Stock Plan	For
	Resolution 5. Require Independent Board Chairman	For (Exceptional)	Two major components at the top of every public company are the running of the board, and the executive responsibilities of running of the company's business. Without doubt, there should be a clear division between the head of the company, and the chair of the board. When there is no clear division of independence between the executive and board branches of a company, poor executive and/or board actions often go unchecked to the ultimate detriment of shareholders. We support this proposal seeking the adoption of a policy that requires the board's chairman be an independent director.
	Resolution 6. Approve Recapitalization Plan for all Stock to Have One-vote per Share	For (Exceptional)	A vote for this proposal is warranted because shareholders would benefit from a one-share, one-vote capital structure in which voting interests are better aligned with economic interests. Furthermore, CEO K. Rupert Murdoch holds approximately 40 percent of the voting power in the company through family trusts. Unaffiliated shareholders may benefit from a capital structure in which the voting power is dispersed in proportion to economic exposure, and less voting power is concentrated among executives who do not have commensurate economic exposure.

	Resolution 2. Approve Remuneration Report	For (Exceptional)	On first glance, there are serious problems with the remuneration arrangements. However, having engaged with the company, we found their explanations and rationale for these changes to be reasonable and therefore we are supporting this resolution. Concerns were: The Company granted a significant basic salary increase to CEO Ian Page for 2012/13, however new salary is still within median range. The exact performance targets attached to the 2012/13 LTIP awards are not disclosed in the annual report as they are being 're-based' in light of the Company's disposal of its Services business; (. Because of sale of Services business, the company's existing targets are no longer fit for purpose. The company is going to consult before the end of the year on the targets they plan to set) The Company does not observe the internal dilution limit of 5% in 10 years for discretionary schemes (a higher 7.5% limit applies); (We have approved this in the past) The newly-appointed CFO, Anne-Francois Nesmes, is employed on a salary that is substantially higher (approximately 25%) than that of her predecessor in that role; and The Company granted two LTIP awards to Anne-Francois Nesmes upon her appointment; albeit these awards were granted to partially compensate her for awards forfeited at her former employer. £300,000 is not out of line with the market and the 2 LTIPs are both subject to performance conditions. The total amount of 200% of her salary only partially compensates her for what she has lost at GSK. It was considered a good compromise as this position offers Anne an opportunity into the plc world. The Company is also seeking shareholder approval to increase the maximum normal award levels

	Resolution 14. Amend Long Term Incentive Plan 2008	For (Exceptional)	The proposed amendment asks to increase the maximum from 150% to 00% so will increase the total potential remuneration of the CEO and the CFO. However, after discussion with the company, we are comfortable with the explanation i.e. that instead of further rises on the base pay of the CEO, the company is increasing the maximum under the LTIP. The following concerns are raised with regard to this proposal: (i) the proposed increase will result in the increase in the

Schedule of voting on company resolutions

			maximum normal award levels of the CEO and the CFO by 33 percent and 50 percent, respectively; (ii) the increase is being proposed following the significant increase to the CEO's salary and the appointment of the CFO at a basic salary higher than her predecessor's, and will therefore result in an overall increase in their total remuneration; (iii) considering the Company's position in the FTSE 250 Index, the existing annual award limit of 150 percent of salary is not considered low in comparison to median LTIP award levels; and (iv) the Company has recently sold its Services business, raising questions as to whether the proposed increase is appropriate at this time given the improvement to the Group's complexity. During further engagement, the Company disclosed that the Company decided to propose the increase to the CEO's maximum award level as, following a review of his overall remuneration package, it was determined that his remuneration package was behind when compared with his peers. Also, the Company considered the growth of the Company during his tenure. Also, it is noted that the Company has yet to determine the specific performance targets attached to the LTIP awards in light of the disposal of its Services business. As such, we are unable to determine if the performance targets attached to the LTIP awards being increased are in line with UK best practice. Further, given that the award levels are being increased, it is also being expected that the performance targets will also be strengthened. Due to these concerns, and without a convincing justification

			Chairman/CEO, we are still relatively comfortable with Ian Burke continuing to combine both roles. However, this is something we intend to ask the company about this as the combined roles are not something that should be considered acceptable on a long-term basis. We also expect the Guoco stake to reduce (Guoco Group has declared a special interim dividend in specie of approximately 88.84 million Rank shares representing 22.74 percent of Rank which we understand will reduce the overall interest of Hong Leong in Rank from approximately 74.5 percent to approximately 68.6 percent) and therefore, it will be less easy to justify this arrangement.
