

Aviva Investors Global Convertibles Absolute Return Fund

FUND IN BRIEF: A GUIDE FOR INVESTMENT PROFESSIONALS

The liquid alternative

With the potential for greater diversification and lower volatility at times of market uncertainty, our convertibles-focused market-neutral fund aims to achieve absolute return on investment over the long term.

Absolute return target – the fund aims to generate absolute returns regardless of market conditions.

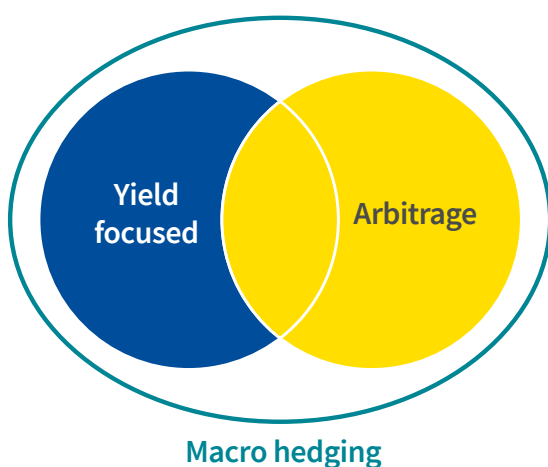

Uncorrelated returns – high diversification potential, uncorrelated to traditional asset classes and strategies.

Low equity beta – with its low beta relative to equity markets, the fund can be a suitable option for asset allocators seeking to include alternatives with lower risk profiles.

Why Aviva Investors?

- Differentiated portfolio construction – convertibles managed in the framework of absolute return, with an emphasis on downside protection by allocation between three distinct and diversified buckets.
- Fundamentally driven – seeks to generate income and absolute returns whilst providing high diversification potential with low correlations to traditional asset classes.
- Heritage and longevity – Our specialist and experienced team has a long track record of providing steady returns with a non-directional, low-volatility liquid alternative strategy.

Differentiated portfolio construction

Goals for each bucket

Long-yield focused opportunities (35–65%)

- Short maturity and high credit conviction
- Discount to implied fair value
- Attractive yields
- Good liquidity and issue size

Long-short convertible arbitrage opportunities (35–65%)

- Pure convertible arbitrage: price of bond relative to fair value
- Gamma strategies to capitalize on market opportunities
- Market directional within equity and credit markets

Macro hedging

- Equity and Credit Risks – Partially hedged
- Interest Rate Risk and Volatility – Partially hedged
- Currency – Hedged to USD

A market-neutral approach utilising convertible bonds can potentially serve as a complement to fixed income

Key risks

The value of an investment and any income from it can go down as well as up. Investors may not get back the original amount invested. Past performance is not a guide to the future.

Convertible bonds can earn less income than comparable debt securities and less growth than comparable equity securities, and carry a high level of risk.

Bond values are affected by changes in interest rates and the bond issuer's creditworthiness. Bonds that offer the potential for a higher income typically have a greater risk of default.

Investments can be made in derivatives, which can be complex and highly volatile. Derivatives may not perform as expected, meaning significant losses may be incurred.

Some investments could be hard to value or to sell at a desired time, or at a price considered to be fair (especially in large quantities). As a result their prices can be volatile.

The level of sustainability risk may fluctuate depending on which investment opportunities the Investment Manager identifies. This means that the fund is exposed to Sustainability Risk which may impact the value of investments over the long term.
