GBP Fund Manager's Comments

Sterling money market yields eased lower in the second quarter 2025, reflecting both a 25-basis point base rate cut to 4.25% at the May monetary policy committee (MPC) meeting and expectations of perhaps two further reductions by the end of the year. Overall, the MPC continued its slow and steady approach, being mindful of the inflationary pressures that remained present in the economy, as evidenced by the April CPI reading of 3.5%. The potential for President Trump's tariffs to ramp up inflation was seen as a clear threat, although worries eased somewhat as the UK and US signed a trade deal in June. Overall, despite fears that the controversial October budget would stall the economy, UK growth in the first quarter was reported to be the strongest of the G7 nations at 0.7%, up from 0.1% in the final quarter of 2024. As we moved into the second half of the year sterling money market yields continued to trend lower, reflecting the 25-basis point base rate cut to 4.0% at the August monetary policy committee (MPC) meeting. The UK's parlous financial position came into sharper focus as continuing rises in long-term bond yields further ramped up the country's already very high debt servicing costs. Investors became concerned that the next budget, scheduled for the end of November, may have to significantly raise the overall tax burden if a full-blown fiscal crisis is to be avoided.UK growth remained weak, even though it was expected to be the strongest among the G7 countries in 2025. Purchasing manager data for September undershot expectations, reflecting the heightened uncertainty facing businesses.

Outlook

On balance, we expect UK growth to slow notably in the remainder of the year and have pencilled in a 1% annual GDP expansion for 2025 and 1.3% for 2026. We think that consumption growth will decelerate as consumers are still in the process of accumulating savings and the labour market will loosen further with payrolls having contracted for four successive months. We expect the autumn budget to include tax increases, which itself would be a headwind to near term growth.

Overall, the market is modestly reducing the amount of rate cuts it is pricing for the coming months. That said, it still broadly discounts two more cuts in this cycle, with a terminal rate of 3.5%. We continue to expect that the Bank will deliver more than that, as wage growth slows further and services inflation comes down more quickly. We also look to the autumn budget as another factor that will add to the impetus to cut rates, with a further tightening in fiscal policy expected.

Government Liquidity Fund

T-Bills became more expensive during the reporting period as the market priced in anticipated rate cuts. We maintained a longer duration, which, combined with higher yields from reverse repo, enabled us to outperform the benchmark. Towards the end of the reporting period, we added more duration through the T-Bill market, which offered a positive carry over repo and provided the portfolio with protection against further interest rate reductions.

Sterling Liquidity fund

We maintained a long duration strategy throughout the reporting period, locking in higher yields ahead of anticipated rate cuts. While we initially sought to reduce the portfolio's weighted average maturity (WAM) and weighted average life (WAL) to enhance liquidity, asset flows during the period had the opposite effect, pushing both WAM and WAL higher and consequently reducing overall fund liquidity.

Standard Sterling Liquidity Fund

We maintained a long duration strategy throughout the quarter, locking in higher yields for longer in anticipation of further rate cuts. We also took advantage of attractive credit spreads, buying covered bonds. We added to both floating-rate and fixed-rate instruments to push out the weighted average maturity and weighted average life on the portfolio.

Sterling Liquidity Plus Fund

Throughout the period, we favoured non-UK covered bonds which continue to provide value vs UK covered bonds and prime RMBS. In the first half of the period, we selectively added short-dated auto ABS, taking advantage of a brief credit spread widening as a result of so-called Liberation Day volatility. Primary ABS issuance was strong however we remained selective given a tightening of spreads relative to covered bonds. Towards the end of the reporting period activity in the fund was relatively muted due to seasonal factors but picked up in September with a resurgence in primary market issuance across both ABS and covered bonds. This included the return of UK autos to the sterling ABS market and non-UK banks to the sterling covered bond market. We participated in several deals across both asset classes, including introducing euro-denominated floating-rate ABS to the portfolio.

US Dollar Fund Manager's Comment

At the start of the reporting period the US Federal Reserve (Fed) maintained its cautious stance as it continued to hold interest rates steady in a range between 4.25% and 4.5% following its last cut in December 2024. We saw a continuation of uncertainty about the prospects for the US economy given the radical policies of the Trump administration. While concerns about the immediate impact of tariffs eased following the signing of a number of trade deals, there remained a lack of clarity on their longer-term impact on both domestic growth and inflation. In addition, the economy began to feel some stress according to backward looking data as the US consumer became a little more watchful. However, after contracting by 0.5% in the first quarter of 2025, second-quarter GDP was relatively resilient at 3.8% year on year as both consumer and business confidence proved robust. The jobs market was more concerning, however, with unemployment rising to 4.3% in August, its highest level since October 2021. September saw the Fed Funds rate reduced by 25 basis points to a range between 4.0% and 4.25%. The cut came despite US inflation rising to 2.9% in August, its highest level since January, as costs for food, used cars and trucks accelerated.

Outlook

As at the end of September, the market was pricing around 40 basis points of rate cuts for the remaining two meetings of the year. The Fed's dot-plot for 2026 and 2027 showed another two cuts for a terminal rate of 3-3.25%. This was in line with consensus but remains somewhat above the market expectations of 2.75-3%.

There is a wide spread of views within the Fed, with the newest committee member, Trump appointee Steven Miran showing his hand early with a forecast of 150 basis points of cuts by year end. To add to the confusion around potential for further reductions, the median growth forecast was revised up and the unemployment forecast revised down. The inflation forecast was raised for 2026. We think the balance of risks to the labour market skews the potential to more, rather than fewer, rate cuts. However, this is largely reflected in market pricing.

The US Dollar Liquidity Fund

During the reporting period, the fund maintained a conservative approach, focusing on short-dated fixed-rate securities (primarily up to three months) and selectively adding floating-rate instruments when spreads were favourable. Liquidity remained a key priority amid ongoing market uncertainty, with efforts to diversify through new issuer additions.

Euro Fund Manager's Comment

During the reporting period the European Central Bank (ECB) cut interest rates twice more to leave the deposit rate at 2.0% at its June meeting. Policy makers were faced by numerous challenges, with political and economic uncertainty touching new highs. Despite the overhanging threat of tariffs being levied against the European Union under the new Trump administration, the region's economy did show tentative signs of improvement, notably in the manufacturing sector. Policy makers continued to be watchful regarding inflationary pressures, despite headline CPI having fallen to around the bank's 2% target. It was felt the bank could not afford to be complacent given the potential for recently levied trade tariffs by the US to stoke price pressures. The decision to pause hold rates at 2.0% after three consecutive meetings cuts came against a backdrop of persistently low confidence in the Eurozone economy, despite some signs of improvement in activity within the services sector. Political instability in the core of the region was again an unwelcome feature towards the end of the reporting period. There was notable uncertainty in France, where the inability of parliament to agree a budget saw the prime minister call a confidence vote, which he subsequently lost. The country's credit rating was subsequently lowered by Fitch. Russia's aggressive posturing with its neighbours also added to the mood of uncertainty.

Outlook

Trade tariffs and related uncertainty could mean that Eurozone export growth reverses and investment growth decelerates. However, we expect consumption to hold up in the presence of large excess savings among households. In terms of monetary policy, any hopes for further ECB easing have all but disappeared and the next move is more likely to be a hike as – absent a shock – the underlying domestic resilience coupled with the fiscal stimulus are pointing to a building of inflationary pressures in 2026 and 2027. This does not necessarily point to a steep hiking cycle but given that rates are now roughly in neutral (or possibly slightly accommodative) territory, the direction is more likely to be upwards. Timing is hard to predict so far out but, on the whole, it seems that the market is complacent to have priced virtually nothing for the next 18 months or so.

The outlook for credit fundamentals is somewhat more challenged, particularly for French issuers in the wake of the rating downgrade by Fitch.

Euro Liquidity Fund

Throughout the period, the fund remained active across the curve while maintaining a cautious stance amid market volatility. We focused on short-dated fixed-rate securities (up to 6 9 months) and selectively added floating-rate instruments as spreads became attractive. Liquidity was increased in preparation for the fund's conversion to an LVNAV in early July.

Key risks

The value of an investment can go down as well as up and can fluctuate in response to changes in currency and exchange rates. Investors may not get back the original amount invested.

The Fund uses derivatives; these can be complex and highly volatile. This means in unusual market conditions the Fund may suffer significant losses.

Certain assets held in the Fund could be hard to value or to sell at a desired time or at a price considered to be fair (especially in large quantities), and as a result their prices could be very volatile.

Bond values are affected by changes in interest rates and the bond issuer's creditworthiness. Bonds that offer the potential for a higher income typically have a greater risk of default.

The unaudited condensed financial statements should be read in conjunction with the audited financial statements for the financial year ended 31 March 2025, which have been prepared in accordance with the applicable accounting standards and in accordance with Irish statute comprising the Companies Act 2014, the UCITS Regulations and the Central Bank UCITS Regulations.

The financial statements have been prepared on a going concern basis for the Company and Sub-Funds under the historical cost convention as modified by the revaluation of financial assets and liabilities held at fair value through the profit or loss.

The Directors are entitled to limit the number of Shares of any Sub-Fund repurchased on any dealing day to Shares representing 10 per cent of the total Net Asset Value of that Sub-Fund on that dealing day (for LVNAV Sub-Funds, such gate may apply for up to 15 Business Days at a time). In this event, the limitation will apply pro rata so that all Shareholders wishing to have Shares of that Sub-Fund redeemed on that dealing day realise the same proportion of such Shares. Shares not redeemed, but which would otherwise have been redeemed, will be carried forward for redemption on the next dealing day. If requests for redemption are so carried forward, the Administrator will inform the Shareholders affected.

The Articles of Association of the Company contains special provisions where a redemption request received from a Shareholder would result in Shares representing more than five per cent of the Net Asset Value of any Sub-Fund being redeemed by the Company on any dealing day. In such a case, the Company may satisfy the redemption request by a distribution of investments of the relevant Sub-Fund in specie provided that such a distribution would not be prejudicial to the interests of the remaining Shareholders of that Sub-Fund. Where the Shareholder requesting such redemption receives notice of the Company's intention to elect to satisfy the redemption request by such a distribution of assets that Shareholder may require the Company instead of transferring those assets to arrange for their sale and the payment of the proceeds of sale to that Shareholder less any costs incurred in connection with such sale.

The Articles of Association of the Company provide that the Company cannot effect a redemption of Shares, if after payment of any amount in connection with such redemption, the Net Asset Value of the issued share capital of the Company would be equal to or less than Euro 40,000 or its foreign currency equivalent. This will not apply to a redemption request accepted by the Directors in contemplation of the dissolution of the Company.

9. FAIR VALUE ESTIMATION

Under FRS 102, the Company is required to classify fair value measurements using a fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements. The fair value hierarchy has the following levels:

Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included within level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (that is, as prices) or indirectly (that is, derived from prices).

Level 3: Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (that is, unobservable inputs).

The level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement is categorised in its entirety is determined on the basis of the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety. For this purpose, the significance of an input is assessed against the fair value measurement in its entirety. If a fair value measurement uses observable inputs that require significant adjustment based on unobservable inputs, that measurement is a level 3 measurement. Assessing the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgement, considering factors specific to the asset or liability. The determination of what constitutes 'observable' requires significant judgement by the Company. The Company considers observable data to be that market data that is readily available, regularly distributed or updated, reliable and verifiable, not proprietary, and provided by independent sources that are actively involved in the relevant market.

The following tables analyse within the fair value hierarchy the Company's financial assets and financial liabilities measured at fair value at 30 September 2025 and in accordance with FRS 102:
