Key risks

1. The funds are subject to market fluctuations

The value of the funds is subject to market fluctuations. This could lead to various factors adversely and unpredictably affecting values, including political and economic events. As such, the value of your investments may go down as well as up. Your investment may be subject to significant short-term market fluctuations. The funds are designed for the medium to long-term investor.

2. Volatility targets are not guaranteed

Where a fund targets a specific volatility level, there is no guarantee that the specific volatility target will be met. This means that the realised risk of the funds could be different from that targeted.

3. Capital and returns are not guaranteed

The capital and returns on the funds are not guaranteed.

4. Currency risk

The funds may hold investments denominated in currencies other than euro. So, the value of your investment may fall or rise depending on changes in the exchange rates of currencies to which the funds are exposed.

5. Counterparty risk

Losses may occur if one or more organisations with which the funds transact become insolvent or fail to meet its obligations. This risk may be reduced by obtaining assets as collateral from these organisations. Any such losses will be passed on to the customer.

6. The Aviva Multi-Asset ESG Active Funds may use derivatives

The funds or the underlying funds they invest in may use derivatives and leverage. The funds could suffer significant losses when derivatives do not perform as expected. More information on the use of derivatives and leverage can be found in Your Investment Guide which is available from your Financial Broker or can be downloaded on www aviva ie

7. Funds may engage in securities lending

The funds may engage in securities lending. Securities lending is an activity whereby a security is transferred from a lender (in this case a unit-linked fund) to a borrower temporarily. The lender receives collateral with a value equal to or in excess of the value of the securities on loan. In the event of a default, the lender can sell the assets provided as collateral and use the proceeds to purchase replacement securities. Securities lending is expected to increase the investment returns in the fund. Securities lending may also increase the level of risk in the fund.
