

Aviva People Privacy Notice

Welcome

Aviva People Privacy Notice

Welcome to the Aviva Privacy Notice for our employees and contingent workers

This Privacy Notice explains how we collect and use Personal Data for:

- Applicants and candidates
- All current colleagues, including all current employees, workers, individual contractors, contingent workers, interns, agency workers, consultants, directors and third parties whose information is provided to us in connection with one of these relationships (e.g. next-of-kin, emergency contact information and dependents)
- All former colleagues

This Privacy Notice is issued on behalf of the Aviva Group companies that operate within Ireland. When we mention “Aviva”, “we”, “us” or “our” we are referring to the relevant company in the Aviva Group that processes your Personal Data and those third parties who do so on our behalf. The Aviva Group company identified in your employment contract or contract for services (whether issued by us or a third party) will be the data controller of your Personal Data.

The information in this Privacy Notice is important, so we have tried to make it accessible and easy to navigate. Use the links to find out more about how we collect, use and share Personal Data.

It is important to read this Privacy Notice together with any separate privacy or fair processing notices that we may provide when collecting Personal Data from you. Any such notices are important. They will explain the Aviva Group company (or third party) which is legally responsible for managing your Personal Data and give more information about how we, and any third party, will use the particular Personal Data collected, your rights and, in some cases, details of any other provisions that may apply to the processing of that Personal Data.

We may seek your consent to certain processing. If consent is required for the processing in question, it will be sought from you separately (whether within a fair processing notice or otherwise) directly by us or a third party appointed to do so on our behalf. This helps us to ensure that it is freely given, informed and explicit. You will be informed of the right to withdraw consent at any time.

We will only use your Personal Data for the purposes for which we collected it, unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another reason and that reason is compatible with the original purpose. If the way that Personal Data will be managed differs from this Privacy Notice or is incompatible with the original purpose for which the data was collected, additional information regarding this processing will be provided to you and, if necessary, we will seek your consent and explain the consequences if you choose not to consent. You should be aware that it is not a condition or requirement of your relationship with us that you agree to any request for consent from us.

Please note that we may process your Personal Data without your knowledge or consent, in compliance with this Privacy Notice, where this is required or permitted by applicable law.

If you have any questions about how your Personal Data is managed, please refer to the further details provided in this Privacy Notice. If you continue to have questions, you can use the contact details provided to ask these to us directly.

We may amend this Privacy Notice from time to time to keep it up to date with current legal requirements and the way we operate our business.

This Privacy Notice was last updated 1st February 2019.

General Information about how your Personal Data is processed

We have set out some information regarding how we manage your Personal Data below, in the form of Frequently Asked Questions.

If you have a question which is not answered in the text below, please use the contact us information provided to ask us directly.

Question	Answer
	The processing is necessary for substantial public interests .	We can process Special Categories of Personal Data where the processing is necessary for reasons of substantial public interest, as set out in the DPA .
	The processing is needed to protect your life or the life of another.	We can process Special Categories of Personal Data where the processing is necessary to protect your vital interests or that of another person where you are physically or legally incapable of giving consent. This means that we can process your Personal Data in exceptional emergency situations, such as a medical emergency, for example.
	The processing is necessary for insurance purposes .	We can process Special Categories of Personal Data where the processing is necessary for the purposes of providing you and your family with insurance products.
	The processing is necessary for occupational pensions / other pension arrangements.	This means where the processing is necessary for the purpose of making a determination in connection with eligibility for, or benefits payable under, an occupational pension scheme.
	The processing is needed for legal claims and/or legal advice.	We can process your Special Categories of Personal Data if the processing is necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims and/or for providing or obtaining legal advice in connection with legal claims or prospective claims.
What if I do not provide you with my Personal Data?	In some cases, you will be free to withhold Personal Data from us. However, if you do withhold specific information, we may not be able to continue your relationship with us particularly if we believe we require the relevant information to support the effective and efficient administration and management of our relationship. For example, we require your Identity Information , Contact Information and Payroll Information in order to pay you. If this is not provided, we may be unable to perform our contractual obligations and have to terminate our contractual relationship.
How do we keep your information secure?	We are committed to protecting the confidentiality and security of the information provided to us and have invested in robust technical, physical and organisational security controls to protect information against unauthorised access, damage, disclosure or loss. If you would like more information about the safeguards we have put in place, please see the Global Data Privacy Standard or contact us .

Question	Answer
Where do we get your Personal Data from?	In most cases, we receive the Personal Data direct from you. You either provide this to us (or our third party) at recruitment or do so at another time during your employment with us. This will include Personal Data that you input into a form or through our self-service portal on Workday, as well as information that you give to the People Function team and to your manager. For example, you provide information directly to us in an application form, CV or similar document. You will provide this through our People Function team, local manager or through our online portals or third parties. We may create Personal Data about you during your employment. As stated, in some cases, we get Personal Data about you from third party sources. Internal sources In addition to the Personal Data that you provide to us, we may generate some further Personal Data internally. This will usually be generated by your line managers and the People Function. For example, we will create interview notes during recruitment and we will also give you regular feedback as part of your development and any performance management processes. In some circumstances, data may be collected indirectly from monitoring devices or by other means (for example, building and location access control and monitoring systems, CCTV, telephone logs and recordings and email and Internet access logs), if and to the extent permitted by applicable laws. In these circumstances, the data may be collected by us or a third party provider of the relevant service. External sources Due to the size and complexity of our operations it is not possible to name each of our sources of Personal Data in this notice. However, we may also obtain some information from third parties, for example, references from a previous employer, medical reports from external professionals, information from tax authorities and benefit providers or where we employ a third party to carry out a background check (where permitted by applicable law).
When do we share your information with others?	Within Aviva, your Personal Data can be accessed by or may be disclosed internally on a need-to-know basis. Your Personal Data may also be accessed by third parties, including suppliers, advisers, national authorities and government bodies. Where these third parties act as a data processor (for example, a supplier who carries out pre-employment screening on our behalf), they carry out their tasks on our behalf and upon our instructions for the purposes set out in this Privacy Notice. In this case your Personal Data will only be disclosed to these parties to the extent necessary to provide the required services. In some cases, the external recipient may also be a data controller of your Personal Data. In such a case, a further notice may be provided to you regarding the processing of your Personal Data by that third party.

	Internal recipients Internal recipients of your Personal Data include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • local, and global People Function departments, including managers and team members; • local, and executive management responsible for managing or making decisions in connection with your relationship with Aviva or when involved in a People Function process concerning your relationship with Aviva (including, without limitation, staff from Company Secretarial, Compliance, Legal, Group Investigation and Forensic Audit and Information Security); • staff in the Pensions function and other areas relating to the provision of staff benefits; • system administrators; and • where necessary for the performance of specific tasks or system maintenance by staff in teams such as the Group Tax, Treasury, Finance, IT, the RemCo and the Global People Function information systems support team. Personal Information may also be shared with certain interconnecting systems such as recruitment systems and local payroll, benefits and IT systems. In addition, certain basic Personal Data, such as your name, location, job title, contact information and any published skills and experience profile may also be accessible to other employees for the purposes set out in this Privacy Notice. This includes your profile on Aviva World, for example.
	External recipients Due to the size and complexity of our operations it is not possible to name each of our data recipients in this notice. Examples of third parties with whom your Personal Data may be shared include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • our clients or customers; • service providers; • tax authorities, • regulatory authorities, • our re-insurers, • bankers, • IT administrators, • lawyers, • auditors, • investors, • consultants and other professional advisors, payroll providers, and • administrators of our benefits programs (where those are outside of Aviva). Personal Data contained in our HR and other interconnecting systems may be accessible by providers of those systems, their associated companies and sub-contractors (such as those involved with hosting, supporting and maintaining the framework of our HR information systems). We expect these third parties to process any data disclosed to them in accordance with the contractual relationship between them and us and applicable law, including with respect to data confidentiality and security. In addition, we may share Personal Data with national authorities in order to comply with a legal obligation to which we are subject. For example in complying with an inspection conducted by the Workplace Relations Commission.

Is any of my Personal Data transferred overseas?	We share your Personal Data within the Aviva Group as set out in this Privacy Notice. Some of the people who access your Personal Data may not be in the same country as you and may be outside of the EEA. Any transfers within the Aviva Group will be covered by an intra-group agreement which gives specific contractual protections to ensure that your Personal Data receives an adequate and consistent level of protection wherever it is transferred within the Aviva Group. In addition, some of the external organisations we share your Personal Data with may be located outside of the EEA. We will always take steps to ensure that any transfer of information outside the EEA is carefully managed to protect your privacy rights: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • we will only transfer Personal Data to countries which are recognised as providing an adequate level of legal protection or where we can be satisfied that alternative arrangements are in place to protect your privacy rights, • transfers to service providers and other third parties will be protected by contractual commitments (such as the European Commission-approved Standard Contractual Clauses), certification schemes (for example, the EU - U.S. Privacy Shield for the protection of Personal Data transferred from within the EU to the United States of America) or other legally acceptable mechanisms that ensure an adequate level of protection, and • any requests for information we receive from law enforcement or regulators will be carefully assessed before Personal Data is disclosed in response to them.
How long do we retain Personal Data?	We will retain your Personal Data for as long as is reasonably necessary for the purposes explained in this Privacy Notice. In some circumstances we may retain your Personal Data for longer periods of time, for instance where we are required to do so in accordance with legal, regulatory, tax or accounting requirements. In some cases, we may also retain your Personal Data for longer periods of time so that we have an accurate record of your dealings with us in the event of any complaints or challenges, or if we reasonably believe there is a prospect of litigation relating to your relationship with us. We maintain Group Record Retention Guidelines which we apply to records in our care. Where your Personal Data is no longer required we will ensure it is either securely deleted or stored in a way that no longer identifies you. We will generally retain your Personal Data for only so long as it is required for the purposes for which it was collected. This will usually be the period of your employment or other contract with us plus the length of any applicable statutory limitation period following your departure. However some data, such as pension information, may need to be kept for longer. We may keep some specific types of data, for example, tax records, for different periods of time, as required by applicable law and as set out in the Group Record Retention Guidelines.
How do we manage the collection of Personal Data about other individuals?	Apart from Personal Data relating to yourself, you may also provide us with Personal Data of third parties. For example, you may provide us with Next of Kin Information as set out in this Privacy Notice. Before you provide information about others to us, you must first inform these individuals that you intend to provide their details to us and of the processing to be carried out by us, as detailed in this Privacy Notice.
How do we manage changes to this Privacy Notice?	We may amend this Privacy Notice from time to time for example, to keep it up to date or to comply with legal requirements or changes in the way we operate our business. This Privacy Notice was last updated on 15th May 2018.

Your Legal Rights

You have legal rights under data protection laws in relation to your Personal Data. Click on the links below to learn more about each right you may have.

- To have access to Personal Data
- To correct / erase Personal Data
- To restrict how we use Personal Data
- To object to how we use Personal Data
- To ask us to transfer Personal Data to another organisation
- To understand how we protect information transferred outside the EEA
- To find out more about how we use Personal Data

We may ask you for proof of identity when making a request to exercise any of these rights if we have reasonable doubts as to your identity. We do this to ensure we only disclose information or change account details where we know we are dealing with the right individual.

We will not ask for a fee, unless we think your request is manifestly unfounded or excessive in nature. Where a fee is necessary, we will inform you before proceeding with your request.

We aim to respond to all valid requests within one month. It may however take us longer if the request is particularly complicated or you have made several requests. We will always let you know if we think a response will take longer than one month and will, in any event, respond within 3 months of the request. To speed up our response, we may ask you to provide more detail about what you want to receive and where it might be located.

We may not always be able to fully address your request, for example if it would impact the duty of confidentiality we owe to others, or if we are otherwise legally entitled to deal with the request in a different way.

Your Rights

To access Personal Data

You can ask us to confirm whether or not we have and are using your Personal Data.

You can ask to get a copy of your Personal Data.

To rectify / erase Personal Data

You can ask that we rectify any Personal Data about you which is incorrect. We will be happy to rectify such Personal Data but would need to verify the accuracy/inaccuracy of the information first.

You can ask that we erase your Personal Data where you think it is no longer necessary for the purpose for which we collected.

If we required your consent in order to use your data, you can withdraw your consent and ask that we erase your Personal Data.

You can also ask that we erase your Personal Data after you have successfully objected to our use of your Personal Data or where we have used it unlawfully or where we are subject to a legal obligation to erase your Personal Data.

We may not always be able to comply with your request, for example where we need to keep using your Personal Data in order to comply with our legal obligation or where we need to use your Personal Data to establish, exercise or defend legal claims.

To restrict our use of Personal Data

You can ask that we restrict our use of your Personal Data in certain circumstances, for example where you think the Personal Data is inaccurate and we need to verify it; where our use of your Personal Data is not lawful but you do not want us to erase it; where the information is no longer required for the purposes for which it was collected but we need it to establish, exercise or defend legal claims; or you have objected to our use of your Personal Data but we still need to verify if we have overriding grounds to use it.

We can continue to use your Personal Data following a request for restriction where we have your consent to use it; or we need to use it to establish, exercise or defend legal claims, or we need to use it to protect the rights of another individual or a company.

To object to use of Personal Data

You can challenge and object to any use of your Personal Data which we have justified on the basis of our legitimate interest if you believe your fundamental rights and freedoms outweigh our legitimate interest. Once you have objected, we will have an opportunity to demonstrate that we have compelling legitimate interests which override your rights and freedoms and justify our continued use of your Personal Data.

To request a transfer of Personal Data

You can ask us to provide your Personal Data to you in a structured, commonly used, machine-readable format, or you can ask to have it transferred directly to another Data Controller (e.g. another company).

Please note however that you only have this right where you initially gave us your consent to use your Personal Data, or we used your Personal Data in order to perform a contract with you, and we have processed your Personal Data by automated means.

Your Rights

To obtain a copy of our safety measures

You can ask for a copy of, or reference to, the safeguards we have put in place when your Personal Data is transferred outside of the EEA.

To find out more about how we use Personal Data

If you are not satisfied with the level of Personal Data provided in this Privacy Notice, you can ask us about your Personal Data. The questions you may ask include (but are not limited to) what Personal Data we have about you, what we use your Personal Data for, who we disclose your Personal Data to, whether we transfer it abroad, how we protect it, how long we keep it for, what rights you have, how you can make a complaint and where we got your data from.

Contact Us

Please contact us

The primary point of contact for all issues arising from this Privacy Notice, including requests to exercise data subject rights, is our Data Protection Officer. The Data Protection Officer can be contacted in the following ways:

Email address: DPO@aviva.com

Postal address: Data Protection Officer, One Park Place, Hatch Street, Dublin 2.

Our supervisory authority

If you are not happy with the way we are handling your Personal Data, you have a right to lodge a complaint with your local data protection supervisory authority at any time. In Ireland this is the Data Protection Commission (www.dataprotection.ie)

We ask that you please attempt to resolve any issues with us before contacting the Data Protection Commission but you are not obliged to do so.
