Leak Detection

We can provide leak detection services through our Specialist Partner LeakSAFE. These solutions are available to Aviva customers at preferential rates.

An escape of water can lead to significant business interruption including unplanned evacuations and property damage which can take a considerable amount of time to repair. Many leaks may start off small but if they go undetected for months, they could cause damage to properties before they are identified.

Leak detection can guard against escape of water occurrences and mitigate the damage caused if a leak occurs.
