Aviva Data Protection - Privacy Notice

1. Personal Information

The Data Controller responsible for this personal information is Aviva Insurance Ireland DAC (“We” “Us” “Our”) as the underwriter of the product. Additional data controllers include Your intermediary/broker who is responsible for the sale and distribution of the product and any applicable reinsurers that We may use

“You” means the Proposer¹ and/or the Data Subject² as the case may be.

We collect and use personal information which has been provided to Us by You and other sources as part of the application process for this Missing Beneficiary Insurance Product and any additional personal information which may be provided to Us in the future in the context of Us performing services relating to the Missing Beneficiary Insurance Product.

This Data Protection Notice explains the most important aspects of how We use that information and what rights can be exercised in relation to such personal information. Further information about the terms We use is contained in Our full Privacy Policy which is available on Our Privacy page at <https://www.aviva.ie/privacy/>, a copy of the Privacy Policy may be requested by writing to Us at Data Protection Officer, Aviva Insurance Ireland DAC, (“Aviva”) One Park Place, Hatch Street, Dublin 2, Ireland, D02 E651, Ireland or call Us at 01 898 8000. This Data Protection Notice supplements the Privacy Policy and is not intended to override it.

2. Personal information We collect

Your data/Proposer/Policy holder information: The personal information We collect, and use may include, beneficiary’s full legal name, details of any name changes e.g. marriage, deed poll, divorce, annulment, deed of separation etc, last known address, former addresses, telephone number and/or email address, gender, date of birth or approximate age, occupation, relationship to the deceased, marital/civil status, domicile, nationality, occupation, share of estate, market value of share of estate, health data (if applicable) such details as included on Inland Revenue Affidavit (CA 24 Form) photographic identification where required.

Other people’s data: As well as collecting personal information outlined above, We may also use personal information about other people, for example the Executor/Executrix or Administrator/Administratrix of the Estate, Witness to a Will, Trustees, dependants or other beneficiaries, Wards of court, claimants and any such other personal information requested in the Proposal Form.

Child data: We may need to ask for personal information relating to a child (i.e. any person under 18 years of age) in the context of the child being a beneficiary of the Estate. In most cases, the personal information sought will be limited such as name, address, date of birth and relationship to the deceased and such data will be obtained from You, the child’s parent or guardian or their legal representative.

Note: If You are providing information about another person We expect You to show them this data protection notice and ensure that they have given You permission to provide this information to us. If they have any concerns, please ask them to contact us in one of the ways described in the “Contacting Us” section below.

From time to time, We may record Your telephone conversations for verification purposes, to ensure We have Your instructions and for training purposes.

Claims data: If a claim is made We may also collect personal information about the claim from any relevant third parties.

Note: You don’t have to provide Us with any personal information, but if You don’t provide the information We need We may not be able to proceed with Your application or any Claim You make. We will let You know what information is required to proceed with Your application or any claim You may make.

¹E.g. Solicitor.

²A Data Subject is any living individual whose personal information We process.

Criminal Conviction data: We may need to ask for details relating to unspent³ conviction information relating to You or somebody else material to this risk, including in the event of a claim.

Health Data: We may need to ask for details relating to the health data of persons material to the risk including in the event of a claim. If You are asked to provide health data, please do not send the results of any genetic tests carried out on You or any other relevant person. We will only collect and use such information where We need to and where it is proportionate for the purposes of obtaining and maintaining this Product.

We recognise that information about health data⁴ and/or criminal convictions is particularly sensitive information. We will only collect and use such data as follows:

This information is used to note Your interest in Our websites, improve customer journeys.

8. How long We keep personal information for

We maintain a Data Retention Policy to ensure We only keep personal information for as long as We may reasonably need it for the purposes explained in this notice. We keep information for the lifetime of the Missing Beneficiary Insurance and for the period necessary to manage Our business or as required by law or contract. We may also need to keep information, for example to ensure We have an accurate record in the event of a complaint or to defend legal claims, carry out relevant fraud checks, or where We are required to do so for legal, regulatory or tax purposes. We will not retain personal data longer than necessary to fulfil the purposes for which it was collected or to fulfil legal obligations, or as permitted by law. Afterwards, We will delete the personal data.

For more information on Our data retention policies please see Our Privacy Policy or contact Us - refer to the details in the "Contacting us" section overleaf.

9. Your rights in relation to Your personal information

You have various rights in relation to Your personal information, including: -

- the right to request access to Your personal information;
- correct any mistakes on Our records;
- erase or restrict records where they are no longer required;
- object to use of personal information based on legitimate business interests including profiling and marketing or public interests;
- ask not to be subject to automated decision making⁵ if the decision produces legal or other significant effects on You;
- move (in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format) certain data to other providers (data portability).

Where We rely on Your consent as Our legal basis for the use of Your personal data You have a right to withdraw Your consent to such use.

Note: You have the right to object to use of personal information based on legitimate business interests. If You do object, We will have an opportunity to demonstrate that there are compelling legitimate grounds which override Your rights and freedoms or that processing is necessary for the establishment, exercise or defence of legal claims. Please note that any successful objection may prevent Us assessing future claims and/or the Policy may be cancelled.

For more details in relation to Your rights, including how to exercise them, please see Our full Privacy Policy or contact Us in one of the ways described overleaf.
