Client change of address

Advisers who have read/write permissions on the Aviva Platform will now be able to amend their customers' residential and/or postal address (where applicable). Any address amendments for other non-Platform products will need to be updated separately.

Please be aware the following requests will still need to go to, and be processed by our Platform operations team

- If a Change of Address is required on an interested party associated with the account
- Where the customer is moving to a foreign address
- For Corporate or Trust accounts, or for the Trustees on the account

An address can be amended from the 'Client details' tab on the Review menu from the Portfolio or Account summary page as shown below -

If the customer has interested parties associated with the accounts, for example where there is a Power of Attorney, the address will be displayed on the Contact details tab. Once Edit is selected, only the account owners address will be available to edit.

If the address held on the customer's account has been identified as an address that had returned mail, an indicator will have been placed on the account to prevent further correspondence being issued until a new address is confirmed. A notification will be presented to confirm that updating that address will remove the indicator.

Confirmation of the change will be sent to the customers new address.
