

Fracture Cover

Available with Life Insurance+, Critical Illness+, Income Protection+ and Living Costs Protection.

Available for an additional cost of £4 per month.

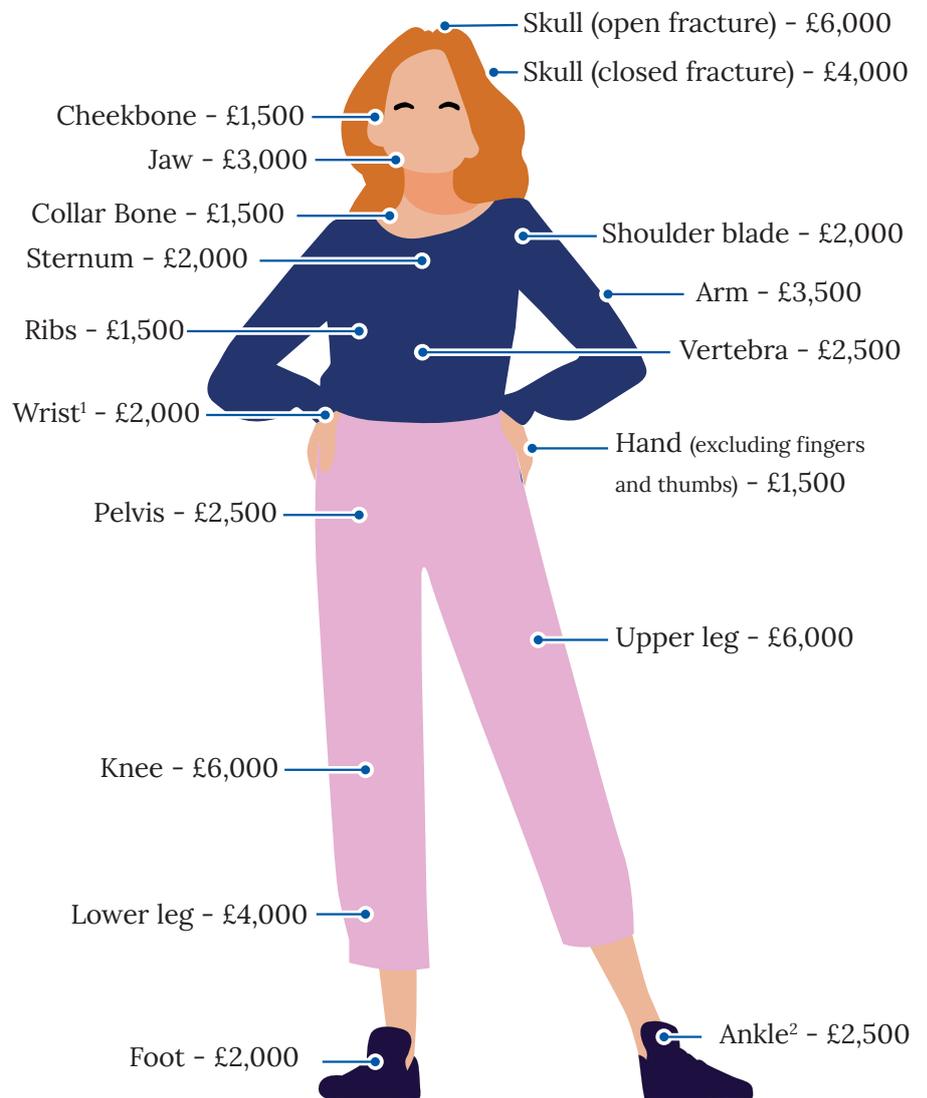

Nobody likes to think about it, but broken bones can mean weeks off work. With our Fracture Cover, you'll receive financial support of up to £6,000 to help tide you over while you recover.

What's covered?

Here are the 18 different bone fractures that we cover, and how much you'd receive for each injury.

Any fractures classed as fatigue, stress, hairline, avulsion/chips, or microfractures are not covered by this policy, neither are any fractures that happen within the first seven days of taking out a policy.

We won't cover a fracture that happens when taking part in any of the following; mountain biking or BMX; boxing, cage fighting or martial arts; rugby or Gaelic football; horse riding; any form of motor cycle sport or event including practice, competing or track days, or motor cycling off-road, trail riding or green-lane riding.

¹We define a fracture of the wrist as a fracture of the carpal bones, the distal radius or the distal ulna.

²We define a fracture of the ankle as a fracture of the medial, posterior or lateral malleolus.
