

Aviva Travel Risk Management - Are you fulfilling your duty of care to your employees?

Any organisation whose employees travel for work has an enhanced duty of care for their safety and security. That's why we go the extra mile to provide you with the tools to help manage work-related travel to protect your people and your organisation.

The ISO 31030 Travel Risk Management (TRM) standard: the value to businesses

ISO 31030 is a best practice framework that helps organisations evaluate and manage their work-related travel risks effectively. It covers policy development, programme implementation, threat identification, risk monitoring and prevention strategies. Investing the time to check your travel management policies and procedures meet the best practice criteria in the ISO 31030 framework, will help control unexpected costs, avoid legal issues and help create solutions before a problem ever occurs.

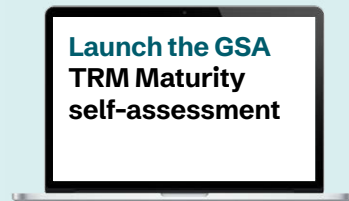

Aviva's Specialist Partner, GSA Global, can provide independent travel risk assessments and audits for organisations of all sizes.

How can Aviva help provide safe and successful travel?

Travel Risk Management Self-Assessment

We provide a free Travel Risk Management Maturity Model Self-Assessment, powered by GSA Global, to help you understand your level of maturity for all the components of the ISO 31030 TRM Standard.

Once completed the report provides an overall summary of how your organisation is performing against the ISO standard, highlighting where there may be gaps in your existing travel risk management programme over seven key areas.

GSA Global - Training, Readiness Assessment & Audit

Following your travel risk management self-assessment, GSA Global can provide additional services to help identify any gaps in your existing programme and provide an audit of ISO 31030 compliance. These solutions are available to Aviva customers at preferential rates.

ISO 31030 training course - provides an online introductory course to provide an understanding of the ISO 31030 TRM Standard and what it means for you and your organisation, including the legal implications, how to devise a compliant travel risk programme for your business, understand emerging risks for travellers and much more.

ISO 31030 Readiness Assessment - this assessment provides a detailed report on your current practices to check if aligned to the standard and a checklist of actions/recommendations if there are any gaps.

ISO 31030 Readiness Assessment and Audit - reviews existing travel risk management programme and provides an audit of ISO alignment leading to certification.
