

Commercial Schemes with Aviva

A partnership built on shared ambition

A lot of factors go into running a successful scheme, but what matters most is the relationship between broker and insurer. We believe a scheme is a trusted long-term partnership which builds on the complementary skillsets each party brings to the table.

No one understands the needs of your customer better than you. This simple fact is key to establishing a supportive, collaborative environment, which lets broker and insurer work together to develop, deliver and optimise your scheme throughout its lifecycle.

So, if you're starting a new scheme or looking for a new partner to inject fresh life into your existing scheme, we'd love to work with you.

Why bring your business to Aviva?
